

Resourcing Services...

....balancing your people needs

...making the difference

What we offer...

Permanent | Contract | Support

In addition to our professional consulting services we are also able to provide highly skilled contract or permanent resource in all areas of IT, with specific focus on ERP, for either technical or functional roles, including training & support. Our resourcing team is one of the most experienced in the ERP market, providing you access to a wide range of specialist skills and people from throughout Europe.

Built upon the strength of our reputation, experience and the relationships formed over years of providing highly acclaimed consultancy services, our resourcing team has proven themselves to be amongst the best in the industry.

We are established suppliers to a broad range of clients including some of the UK's largest blue chip companies to whom we consistently find and secure the very best permanent and contract talent in the IT industry.

Why we are different...

At Differentia we take our proven consultative approach and apply it to your needs; taking the time to listen, advise and assist you with your requirements from start to finish; providing a personal and comprehensive service throughout.

We understand no two businesses are identical. What may appear to be the same on the surface will often reveal differences under more detailed scrutiny. Differences in organisation, policy, process, services and volume, degree of in-sourcing, outsourcing all have an effect on the right mix of resource required to support a powerful and business critical ERP system such as J.D. Edwards;

What we can do for you...

- Contract Recruitment
